

DESIGNSUPPORT

DESIGNSUPPORT is a FREE service dedicated to supporting engineers and designers in selecting components for projects.

Searching for the right component to solve a problem can take design engineers many hours resulting in finished and tested prototypes being delayed.

With tremendous experience in sourcing and supply of electro-mechanical components, and the accumulated experience and knowledge of our technical team we can assist your design engineers from prototype to full production either on site or remotely.

For more information contact Mike or Cathy at:

designsupport@aerco.co.uk

