DESIGNSUPPORT

PROBLEM SOLVING

What is DESIGNSUPPORT?

DESIGNSUPPORT is a FREE service dedicated to supporting engineers and designers in selecting components for projects.

The team consists of specialists recruited and trained for their skill and knowledge in component selection.

EVALUATION

How can DESIGNSUPPORT help you?

Searching for the right component to solve a problem can take design engineers many hours. Meanwhile days, weeks or even months can elapse resulting in finished and tested prototypes being delayed.

Valuable engineering expertise is tied up searching the market through catalogues, datasheets and discussions with manufacturers' representatives. The inventive talents of your designers would be better spent working on innovations and solutions to your company's specialist product needs.

With tremendous experience in sourcing and supply of electro-mechanical components, and the accumulated experience and knowledge of our technical team we can assist your design engineers.
